Charges Are Filed Against 2 Men Held in U. S. Spy Case

Former Petty Officer in American Navy and Jap Are Charged

READS LIKE FICTION

Federal Men Get Full Details of Plot to Sell Secret

LOS ANGELES.—(AP)—The oft-remembered "navy spy case" was an open court affair Thursday, with two men under indictment charged with conspiring to furnish U. S. navy information to the Japanese government.

Defendants are Harry Thomas Thompson, erstwhile petty officer in the U. S. navy, and Toshia Miyazaki, identified in the indictment as a lieutenant-commander of the Imperial Japanese navy.

Thompson the government charges, masqueraded as a naval officer to obtain information, then sold it to Miyazaki.

A federal grand jury returned the indictment Wednesday, tearing aside the secrecy with which navy officials and government prosecutors have cloaked their long investigation.

Plot Revealed
The allegations contained in the indictment read like the plot of a familiar espionage fiction. They have the full complement of routine elements, involving two first-class powers, an oriental mutually-profitable alliance.

Adding to the story book favor of the affair, a Japanese woman was injected into the picture Thursday.

It was learned that federal operative have questioned the woman regarding the case, and are keeping her possible for further interrogation.

The woman, it was disclosed, is an acquaintance of Thompson, who is serving a county jail sentence for illegally wearing a naval officer's uniform.

Thompson, the indictment charged, began selling his country's secrets on August 26, 1934, when he boarded the U. S. S. Brooks at San Diego. With this episode as an opening chapter, the indictment continued with this story.

Documents Obtained
Dressed as a navy officer, Thompson went aboard U. S. warships at San Pedro and San Diego and obtained assorted documents—code books, signal books, photographs, blueprints, plans, maps, models and information relating to the national defense.

Miyazaki described in the indictment at one-time honor student at Stanford University and, federal investigators said, language officer at the institution, met Thompson on several occasions, in San Pedro and Los Angeles and paid him for naval information.

The information, according to the indictment, was "to be used to the injury of the United States and to the advantage of a foreign nation, to-wit Japan."

The jury alleged "divers other persons unknown" were involved in the espionage plot.

Superintendent Indicted For Whipping of Inmate

NASHVILLE, Tenn.—(AP)—Lester Tomlin, assistant superintendent in charge of farm operations of the state training and agricultural school for boys, was indicted by the county grand jury Thursday for the alleged whipping of Ted Phillips, 14, an inmate.

Indictments against nine other defendants charging evasion of gasoline taxes were also returned by the grand jury.

CROSSETT, Ark.—(AP)—A 126-foot plunge from steel tower killed Henry A. Grainger, 45, Springfield, Mo., steel worker, here Wednesday. He was working on the $4,000,000 paper mill under construction here.

Crossett Erwin, safety engineer on the project, said that he was unable to account for the accident unless Grainger lost his hold. The tower supports a water tank.

Grainger is survived by his wife of Springfield.

Gay Mecca of New Dealers

The attention of the country was focused on this huge flag-bedecked building in Philadelphia, the Municipal Auditorium, in which Democratic leaders and thousands of spectators assembled daily for the colorful sessions of the party's national convention.

Robinson Attacks Court Decisions

Declares Decisions Had "Effect of Slowing of Recovery"

Philadelphia.—(AP)—The issue of the constitution and the courts Wednesday night was thrown more strongly than ever into the campaign as Senator Robinson of Arkansas took over chairmanship of a Democratic national convention not entirely free of sub-surface troubles.

Openly criticizing the supreme court, Robinson, as had the keynote before him, asserted that some of the high tribunals decisions had had "the effect of slowing up national recovery."

Conflict over the party's platform and bitter dissension that delayed action by two of the convention's important committees rattled the surface increasingly, although a stubborn delegate contest apparently was settled by compromise.

Throughout the night a drafting committee sought a platform agreement, but word of only meager progress came from the conference room. It appeared that money, monopoly, and constitutional issues were making most of the trouble.

Still unsettled, too, was the dispute whether to abandon the old rule requiring two-thirds of a national convention to nominate. Southern opposition to the change had developed unexpected strength and bitterness. A committee vote was postponed until Thursday.

Nation Going Forward
The broad-shouldered Robinson, after stirring applause with his praise of President Roosevelt and his lashing of Governor Landon and other anti-New Dealers, turned directly to the Supreme Court. He asserted that "in spite of" its rulings, the nation was going forward. He added:

"We recognize that decisions of the supreme court until reversed are final, and we abide by them. Nevertheless, we do not regard the court as above and beyond those factors and causes which naturally influence the minds of human beings."

And again, after a mention of the court's invalidation of the New York state minimum wage law for women, he shouted:

"Oh, blind and impartial justice, what blunders are committed in this name!"

Arkansas Group Notsy
Immediately after Robinson was escorted to the speaker's stand, a parade of standards started on the floor.

Committee Urges Repeal, Favors Majority Rule

Robins, Arkansas Delegate, Breaks With Southern Colleagues

ATTACK OLD SYSTEM

Renomination of Roosevelt Expected Friday or Saturday

PHILADELPHIA.—(AP)—Overriding southern objection, the Roosevelt rules committee Thursday recommended abrogation of the old two-thirds nomination rule at the Democratic national convention.

Debate was delayed until Thursday night pending drafting of dissenting reports.

While the platform makers struggled to settle troubles of their own over the conference table, delegates unanimously accepted reports from committees on credentials and a permanent organization, and then adjourned.

Whether the platform would be ready in full, and an attempt made to dispose of that along with the rules dispute Thursday night, remained uncertain.

The convention had planned to renominate President Roosevelt Friday afternoon and Vice-President Garner Saturday, but the mixup Thursday may alter arrangements.

R. W. Robins of Arkansas, broke with his southern colleagues and favored repeal of the two-thirds rule.

He referred to the 1932 Chicago convention and said that the big eastern states there might have blocked the nomination of President Roosevelt.

"I don't think that sectionalism ought to be raised here. We should all work together," he declared.

Majority Rule Favored
PHILADELPHIA.—(AP)—The Democratic convention rules committee Thursday recommended scrapping the 104-year-old rule requiring two-thirds majority vote to nominate presidential and vice-presidential candidates.

Indications were that a Southern fighting group would carry the issue to the floor of the convention.

A ballot of the committee, with each state and territory allowed one vote, was 38 to 30, to substitute a majority rule instead of the two-thirds nomination rule.

Platform Delayed
PHILADELPHIA.—(AP)—Framing of the Democratic platform pledging federal power to deal with social and economic problems of the nation was delayed Thursday by a dispute over the ticklish issue of a proposed constitutional amendment.

Landon in California
DENVER.—(AP)—Governor Alf M. Landon, Republican nominee for president, arrived in Denver with his family at 7:28 a. m. (CST) Thursday to start his Colorado vacation.

Arkansas Delegates Rest
PHILADELPHIA.—(AP)—The Arkansas delegates to the Democratic national convention relaxed Thursday after a tumultuous demonstration that they staged in convention hall Wednesday night.

The Arkansas delegation went wild in applause over an address delivered to the convention by Senator Joe T. Robinson.

National Committeeman Brooks Hays, of Little Rock, carried the state banner, and delegates spelled Arkansas in large red cardboard letters.

Circuit Judge H. B. Means, of Malvern, "blew the roof off" with a fox horn. Mrs. J. M. Futrell, wife of the governor, stayed in the parade to the finish, escorted by Revenue Commissioner Earl R. Wiseman.

It was a great address, laying the issues squarely before the people," commented Senator Hattie Caraway at the conclusion of Robinson's address.

Among those escorting Robinson to the platform was Mrs. Caraway and Governor Futrell. The three chatted and posed for photographs almost an hour before the speech started.

Robinson said he had not decided when he would open his campaign for renomination in the August primary or where the opening address would be made.

A forecast that the third party movement would "hurt the Republicans as much if not more than the Democrats in the November election," came from Mrs. Caraway.

Fire Destroys Mill
WINNFIELD, La.—(AP)—Fire Wednesday night destroyed the Mansfield Hardwood Lumber company sawmill here with loss estimated at $100,000 by a company official. No injuries were reported although a number of workmen were on duty when the fire began.

Pie Supper Friday
A pie supper will be held in the Allen community, three miles from Blevins at 8 p. m. Friday. The public is invited.

Turned Brown Mountcastle Is Kiwanis Speaker

County Agent Addresses Club at Weekly Meeting Thursday

W. E. Montcastle, Hempstead county agent, was the guest speaker Thursday noon at the weekly meeting of the Kiwanis club at Hotel Barlow.

The theme of his address was problems facing the county agent in assisting farmers.

He spoke on soil erosion and said that production of farm commodities were falling off, and that production costs were rising, due partly to soil erosion.

Mr. Mountcastle said that Hempstead county had 20 demonstration pastures, established on hills and pastures for the purpose of getting eroded lands back into production.

He said these pastures would produce from 150 to 250 pounds of beef per acre, making pasture lands a cash crop for the farmer.

He said that two demonstration silos had been established in the county and that four more were planned. He said objectives of the silos were to stress dairy development in this section.

The program was arranged by R. V. Herndon, head of the Kiwanis agricultural committee.

3,000 Roosevelt Speakers Listed

Big Guns Set in Place for Campaign Beginning in August

PHILADELPHIA.—(AP)—Setting its big guns in place for the campaign oratory in August, the Democratic national committee speakers bureau said 3,000 persons were listed to make speeches for the national ticket.

The list of speakers comprises senators, congressmen and governors, and Paul Aiken, director of the bureau, said more "are coming in all the time" to volunteer their services.

At present, he said, the bureau is merely filling requests for speakers for various political meetings. But in late August, itineraries will be made up and the speakers will take to the hustings in earnest.

He said that for several months, James A. Farley, chairman of the national committee, had been writing to senators, congressmen and others asking assistance in the speaking campaign. A list of those who had accepted was not available but he said acceptances were sufficient to cover every state.

Land Is Optional

lives removed from the submarginal land projects.

As an experiment and a demonstration of the possibilities of the Bankhead-Jones bill, Administration Rexford G. Tugwell decided to extend the resettlement program to include 1,000 good tenant farmers, farmers who have not been on relief, who have always made their own way, but who have not been able to get for enough ahead to purchase their own farms.

100 Families For State

The three states in the sixth region, Arkansas, Louisiana and Mississippi, were each assigned a quota of 100 families, and the optioning of land for this purpose was begun in February.

Mr. Crigler, former county agricultural agent in Saline county, was appointed project manager and instructed to obtain options for the purchase of fertile farm land for the resettlement of 100 tenant families by June 20.

Mr. Crigler reported he had exceeded his quota by 64 per cent and has submitted to Washington options on land sufficient to resettle 164 tenant families. There is a possibility, he said, that the quotas will be reallocated so that Arkansas may be permitted to resettle more than 100 families.

More than 600 tracts of land were offered for sale to the Resettlement Administration for the farm tenant purchase project, but only 22 of these could be optioned at a figure commensurate with the land appraiser's recommendations. The government cannot give consideration to speculative values in the purchase of land, Mr. Crigler explained. It can pay only the current market value, based upon the productivity of the land.

Average of 61.5 Acres

The 22 tracts, containing sufficient land for 164 families, are situated in nine counties: Pulaski, Lincoln, Lonoke, Desha, Drew, Clark, Nevada, Hempstead and Miller. Recommendations on the suitability and fertility of the land were obtained from the local county agricultural agents and each tract was carefully investigated before an option was taken.

Each resettlement farm will have an average of 61.5 acres. Some families, however, will have but 40 acres, while others will have as much as 100 acres, depending upon the kind of farming, the fertility of the soil, and the size of the family. No family will have less than 35 acres of cultivated land, including hay acreage, and each farm will have adequate pasture and farm woodland for fuel supply.

Tenant families to be resettled have already been selected by the family resettlement unit of the RA Management Division, after careful investigation of their background, health, character, reputation, and a dozen or more other factors.

Each farm will be improved by the construction of adequate homes, barns, out-buildings, fences and the like, and the farmer will be given the opportunity of buying it from the government with annual installments.

The annual payments, extending over a period of 10 years, will amount to 4.5 per cent of the total indebtedness and each payment will include principal and interest. Title to the farm will not be transferred until the end of the 10-year period, thus preventing speculation and possibility of losing it through mortgages, Mr. Crigler explained.

France governs 365 of every 1000 square miles in Africa. Great Britain is second with 81, Portugal 69, Italy 59, and Egypt 31.

Strato Balloon Falls in State

Lands in Tree Top on Ozark Mountain Ridge Near Huntsville

HUNTSVILLE, Ark.—(AP)—Falling like a plummet from the skies the Piccard stratosphere balloon landed in a tree top on an Ozark mountain ridge near Fort Alabam, five o'clock Wednesday afternoon.

J. Denver Smith, Fort Alabam storekeeper, who saw the balloon fall, was first to reach the huge bag but said it was ripped badly by the wind and branches before he could dislodge it from the tree. The instruments, he reported, were apparently undamaged.

Bill Everett, Huntsville, one of hundreds who flocked to Smith's store to view the balloon, said the tubes in the bag's radio were still burning when it was recovered. Everett said no one in that section knew anything about the instruments and it was impossible to say what data they contained.

Smith took them under his protection and notified Professor John D. Akerman, head of the University of Minnesota aeronautical engineering department, by telegram of the balloon's descent. He said he had not received a reply from Professor Akerman early Wednesday night.

Fort Alabam in Madison county is in the extreme northwest portion of Arkansas.

Demands Granted Striking Sailors

Return to Posts Thursday Under eBtter Working Conditions

PARIS.—(AP)—Striking French sailors at Marseilles, who flew Red flags from the ships, won their demands Wednesday.

The government announced ship owners would meet the seamen's demands and the latter would return to work Thursday night.

Refusing to vacate the ships when they struck Monday, the tars demanded a better wage, vacations with pay and headshots on board. Nearly 50 French crews struck and foreign vessels were unable to leave the harbor when tugboat crews joined the walk-out.

Ambassadors of several foreign nations had asked authorities to commandeer tugboats to enable visiting ships to get to sea.

Paris Taxi Strike Averted

A threatened general taxi strike in Paris was averted when employers agreed to a collective contract.

At St. Nazaire, officials said, 120 men "from Paris" occupied a few hundred yards from the unfinished cruisers Georges Leygues and Masséna. The authorities said 8,000 shipyard employees continued their work, despite the situation.

Robinson Attacks

Almost every state was in it, as it grew more noisy momentarily. Arkansas led off with a special Robinson banner and the state flag. The towns joined in bearing old stalks of artificial green corn. Michigan contributed a banner advertising the automobile industry.

Many of the delegates merely stood upon their seats, however, and the aisles were not so jammed as in the rapid progress. Almost at double-quick the cheering delegates trooped past the speaker's stand, while hand and organ contributed a discordant medley. Here and there a woman lifted to masculine shoulders and borne along above the crowd. The banners multiplied.

After about 10 minutes, the shouting began to die, and it seemed that the booking of popular old-time songs by the organ was keeping the demonstration going almost alone.

Tribute to Robinson

One of those standing directly in front of the speaker's stand was Elliott Roosevelt, one of the president's sons, who had the Texas flag draped about his shoulders.

Harvey Conch, Arkansas utility man and former RFC official, perspired freely, helped carry the flag of Robinson's state. Seeing that the center was impatient to get started, however, Conch finally engineered Arkansas' delegation out of the line of march.

The demonstration soon subsided, and Robinson, who had stood smiling on the speaker's rostrum meanwhile, began speaking.

Sonator Barkley of Kentucky introduced the Arkansas as "not only a nation, but a leader whose leadership is expected by his colleagues in the Senate" and the convention gave him another hand.

Electro-plating of silver first was discovered about the middle of the 19th century.

Cannot Garnish Bonus Benefits

Attorney General Rules on Legal Questions for Veterans

LITTLE ROCK.—(AP)—Money derived from the bonus payment to veterans is not subject to garnishment, Attorney General Carl E. Bailey ruled in an opinion requested by Assistant Director Merlin Fisher of the Arkansas service bureau.

Fisher reported numerous queries to his office concerning garnishment and other questions in connection with the government's payment of the adjusted service certificate to World war veterans.

"We wish to say that under the rule as laid down by our supreme court we do not believe such funds are subject to garnishment," stated the opinion written by Assistant Attorney General Guy E. Williams.

Mrs. Williams recognized her mother immediately. "Oh, that's my Mom," she exclaimed when Dr. Wilson called her to the door. When her son, Billy, approached her, she did not recognize him.

Dr. J. G. Wilson, with whom the woman has been staying for the past 10 days, said he believed complete memory would eventually come back to her.

Mrs. Livingston and her grandson came by automobile.

Wall Street Sees Flow of Dividends

New Tax Bill Means Heavy Flow of Money to U. S. Treasury

NEW YORK.—Wall Street took stock of the new tax bill Wednesday and seemed to be in general agreement that it would mean the heaviest flood of increased and extra dividends since 1929.

The tangible evidence of this was found in the action of the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company, which raised its quarterly common dividend from 75 cents to $1 and its preferred from 75 cents to $1.25.

United States Smelting, Refining and Mining Company doubled its common dividend to $2.

The Chicago Railway Equipment Company declared a quarterly dividend of 1 1/2 per cent on the $25 preferred stock, the first since October, 1932, when a partial payment was made.

Lacy Convicted, Gets Ten Years

Baseball Manager Pleads Self Defense in Fatal Shooting

CLEVELAND, Tenn.—(AP)—Gay Lacy, 38, professional baseball manager, was convicted of second degree murder by a criminal court jury Wednesday and sentenced to 10 years in the state penitentiary.

The murder charge grew out of the fatal shooting of Lee Payne, 66, Lacy's father-in-law, in September, 1934.

Lacy, who is manager of the Jackson (Miss.) club of the Cotton States League, pleaded self-defense in the slaying. He testified he shot Payne after the latter had fired at him with a pistol.

This was the defendant's second trial in the same case, the first ending in a mistrial in February, 1935.

Lion Oil's Smackover Well Is Big Gasser

EL DORADO, Ark.—(AP)—The Lion Oil company's Berg-Reynolds No. 1 in the Snow Hill area of the Smackover field showed as a big gasser in drill stem tests late Wednesday with an estimated flow of 35 million cubic feet per day.

The test was made at 4820 feet and

Germans Pleased by France's Policy Change

BERLIN.—(AP)—Wilhelmstrasse spokesmen said Wednesday night the German government was pleased with the "change in tone" in the French declaration of foreign policy.

German and French objectives, they added, seemed to be more alike with Yvon Delbos in the French foreign chair.

One commentator remarked the "new tone" from the Quai d'Orsay probably was caused by the fact that Delbos' right arm "has three German bullets in it."

Net Valuation of Property Declines

Figures for Hempstead County, However, Show Increase

LITTLE ROCK.—Arkansas property owners are paying taxes this year on nearly $7,500,000 less final valuation than last year, it was revealed when county clerks' final abstracts were tabulated at the office of the Arkansas Corporation Commission Wednesday.

The clerk's abstract is the net valuation on which the collector bases tax collections, after the Equalizing Board and the County Court have revised the valuations reported by the county tax assessor.

These valuations usually are revised downward and some of the assessors are stricken off the list because the law requires the assessor to return valuations on all property, including real estate which has been forfeited to the state for non-payment of taxes. The state does not pay taxes on this land, so it is taken off before the clerk certifies the list to the collector.

Hempstead Increases

The report for Hempstead county, however, showed that assessed valuations of property increased over that of 1934. The 1935 valuation showed $7,305,430 as compared to $5,396,038.

Louisiana Votes for 2% Sales Tax

Measure Passes House in Three Minutes Without Debate

BATON ROUGE, La.—(AP)—The House Wednesday passed the Louisiana administration "luxury" sales tax, 84 to 0, and sent it to the Senate.

The measure passed through the lower chamber in three minutes, without debate and with little discussion.

The sales tax levies a two per cent tax on sales of commodities other than vegetables, staple groceries, farm implements, feed, fertilizer, livestock, poultry, and equipment used in commercial fishing.

Gov. Richard W. Leche, who claims the bill taxes only luxuries, said it would be amended in the Senate to extend the exemption list to include ice and possibly other commodities.

The revenue from the tax, which the governor predicted would reach potentially $5,000,000 annually, would be used for homestead exemptions, for social security and hospitals.

Vice Operations in Ft. Worth Exposed

Councilman Says Racket Overlords Get Most of Girl's Money

FORT WORTH, Tex.—Charges that an organized racket, in which vice overlords force girls to pay up to 75 per cent of their earnings for protection, were aired before city council Wednesday by Dr. W. J. Hammond, vice committee chairman.

After an eight-months study of conditions in Fort Worth, the councilman laid down a factual report with recommendations for revision of city ordinances to stamp out the asserted practice.

According to the report, 85 per cent of the city's estimated 200 prostitutes, who have congregated within an eight-block area, are infected with active venereal diseases.

corn expected to receive benefit from recent rains.

Pastures, meadows, most truck and berries: Badly damaged.

Sweet potatoes, melons, fruit: Will improve in areas where rain has fallen.

Rice: unusual amount of pumping necessary, some fields abandoned.

Cotton: Deterioration in north central and northeastern counties, parts of highlands, good condition in other sections, blooming almost to north border.

Widespread Crop Damage in State

Early Corn Damaged Beyond Recovery in Some Highland Sections

LITTLE ROCK.—(AP)—Reports of widespread crop damage in Arkansas as result of the spring drought were announced Wednesday by Federal Meteorologist H. S. Cole.

Cole's reports, based on observation of weather bureau attaches in various cities, was summarized as follows: Early corn: Injured beyond recovery in some highland sections; damaged in virtually all sections. Late corn: Officials said they would decide Thursday whether to drill deeper for oil or operate the well as a gas-well.

The Standard Oil company's Reynolds B3 in the same field increased its flow Wednesday to 10 barrels per hour with about six million feet of gas. The well has not entirely cleaned out and it may be several days before it is allowed to flow freely. Greater production is expected after the cleaning is completed.

During a lunar eclipse, the temperature of the moon was found to have dropped from 194 degrees above to 15 degrees below zero, within a few minutes.
